Brandt's feed mill, which resides on 830 Maple Street, is a single species mill developing only equine feed. Brandt's is partnered with Kentucky Equine Research to help produce the highest quality formulas of horse feed for each stage of the horse's life cycle. Providing horses with proper nutrition will help ensure that horse owners and trainers obtain optimal performance from their equine investments. Whether your horse is sprinting around the race track or has a foal by their side, nutrition plays a huge role in the end result. Our products are also formulated using the most current research in equine nutrition.
