Mark Motley remains CEO to guide strategic direction as the third-generation family company marks leadership transition

RICHMOND, VA — October 14, 2026 — Motleys Asset Disposition Group today announced a change in its leadership structure. Mark Motley, who previously served as President and CEO, will now serve solely as Chief Executive Officer, where he will oversee the company's strategic direction. His daughter, Lauren Motley, formerly Operations Director, has been appointed President and will oversee day-to-day operations across all divisions, including Motleys Industrial, Motleys Appraisals, Motleys Homes & Land, Motleys Commercial Real Estate and Motleys Fortis. With Lauren's appointment as President, Motleys is now a woman-owned business.

"This transition allows me to focus on what will shape Motleys' future: where we grow, how we serve our clients, and how we continue to build upon our exceptional reputation," said Mark Motley, CEO. "Lauren has proven herself in every role she has held, and I have complete confidence in her ability to lead our teams and operations."

"I'm honored to step into this role and grateful for the trust my father and our team have placed in me," said Lauren Motley, President. "Whether we're selling a single home or an entire industrial facility, our people and our client relationships are what make Motleys different. I intend to keep that standard at the center of everything we do as we grow."

Motleys is a third-generation family company, founded by Mark's parents, Dick and Pokey Motley, in 1967. "It means a great deal to see our family tradition continue," said Mark. "My parents built this company on hard work, integrity, and strong relationships, and those values guide us today. Having Lauren take on this leadership role carries that legacy forward."
