147		"Dovitiis" Uruguayan Contract Mauser 71 /94 6.5x53.5 Bolt Action Rifle (Antique)	Serial # 88659 - The Uruguayan Contract Mauser was commonly known as the "Dovitiis" Mauser because Antonio Dovitiis (an Italian Greek merchant) was contracted by the Uruguayan Government to provide a more modern rifle to replace their obsolete Mauser. He purchased 10,000 of these from France who converted the Model 71/94 to 6.5x53.5mm Rimmed (also known as 6.5 Daudeteau) at the St. Denis arsenal in France. It was not long before Uruguay adopted something entirely different so these are a rare find. This rifle is marked "J.G. M/71" and bears the Gothic Prussian proof marks. The receiver is dated "1881" which would be the original manufacture date making this rifle an antique. The chamber has the French arsenal St. Denis stamp in script which is where the caliber conversion was done. The wood stock is very solid with heavy patina and the steel parts are nicely blued. The markings are clear and action is excellent. All serial numbers on the steel parts match. This rifle appears to be in very good to excellent condition. No FFL is required.

148		Bodeo M1889 10.35mm Revolver (5700)	Serial # NSN - The Bodeo revolver, named after the head of firearms commission Carlo Bodeo in Italy, was developed from 1889 to 1931. It has a folding trigger design and has no trigger guard. It is a 6 shot revolver that uses an Abadie loading gate based on the Jean Louis Warnant patent. This disconnects the hammer when the gate is open and the trigger advances the cylinder. The barrel is 4.5" and it came in 2 versions, A and B with the B model being an officer's version with a trigger guard and round barrel. This A model has no trigger guard and the barrel is octagon in shape. This revolver appears to be functional but the finish is heavily worn and most of the markings are not legible. The revolver appears to be in good condition and is C&R eligible.
