ABSENTEE BID TERMS

Absentee bids are handled by a member of our firm, and bids on your behalf up to the amount you have specified on the Absentee Bid Form. We do not open the bidding with your bid. If the bidding from the audience ceases anywhere below the amount you have bid, you will be the buyer at the next raise above the last bid from the audience. We bid against the audience as though we were you, within the limit you specify. These bids are treated fairly and confidentially.

If two bids are received on the same item from different people, the bidding will open at the next logical raise above the lower bid. If two absentee bids are received in the same amount on the same item, the first one received will take precedence. In the event that there is a "tie" bid between an absentee bid and a bid from an audience participant, it is our policy, in this case, the lot is awarded to the audience participant.

Absentee bids must be received, with all required information and signatures, and are subject to the TERMS & CONDITIONS of the applicable auction. If you are a successful absentee bidder, you will be notified by phone immediately following the auction. We will expect immediate payment and arrangements for pick-up of your item(s).

I understand the Auction Staff will execute the bids as a convenience, and will not be held responsible for any errors or failure to execute bids. I understand that my bids are placed subject to the TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE and ABSENTEE BID TERMS, and that I will be responsible for the purchase price, as well as all applicable taxes or shipping costs. Removal will not be allowed until further payment has been received. Furthermore, the auction company reserves the right to refuse any and all absentee bids submitted.

I have read and understand these terms.
